

April Campo

Senior Vice President of Global Operations

April Campo is the Senior Vice President of Global Operations for ACS Group. In this role, she is responsible for ensuring client and consultant satisfaction and for managing all Client Program teams. These teams are accountable for onboarding, time management, on-assignment care, and redeployment for all contractors.

April is a skilled operations leader with expertise in directing complex projects from inception through completion and developing effective processes and business analytics focused on increasing revenue and gross profit in intensely competitive environments. She is an accomplished executive who can attract, recruit, and build high-performing sales, recruiting, and operations teams for industry-leading professional staffing and solutions companies.

Before ACS Group, April was the Senior Director of Operations, North America, with Experis, where she was a key stakeholder in developing the Experis Sales and Recruiting Common Operating Model. April was a pioneer in driving brand consistency throughout North America into Latin America and across Europe. She also created and chaired the Operational Excellence Committee across field operations with the primary objective of improving quality of all processes from requisition receipt through cash collection.

With more than 20 years of staffing industry experience, April has a deep knowledge of the business, the marketplace, and all operational and workflow processes. She is a graduate of Bryant University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Finance and Accounting.
